Software Quality & Testing

Clients Trust VIP to Ensure Streamlined Processes and Quality Applications

Today's IT organizations are under immense pressure to reduce costs while also improving the performance of their critical software applications. Even with these pressures, organizations often fail to realize the full potential of their IT investments due to a lack of in-house software quality management (SQM) and testing expertise. Many simply do not realize how significantly these programs can impact the overall success of the enterprise.

Visionary Integration Professionals (VIP) is trusted by businesses and government agencies to deliver the skills and experience needed to effectively monitor and improve software quality. We can identify quality and performance impediments before they negatively impact business processes or end users. Overall, VIP's Software Quality & Testing services and solutions help minimize downtime, increase availability, and control IT costs while helping you get the maximum return on your IT investments.

Strategic Planning and Best Practices for Enterprise and Mobile Solutions

Virtually every IT infrastructure, from the best-run companies to the largest government entities, has vulnerable points in software quality and performance. Testing helps find and resolve these challenge points. Knowing what to test is as important as knowing how to test it. Clients trust VIP to deliver the right experience, assessment methodology, and planning to make the most of their testing budgets and resources.

Functional & Automated Testing

Automating manual tests is an efficient method to deliver new application releases and control testing resources. As your applications grow to encompass new functionality, test automation tools reduce the cost of repetitive manual testing, while increasing the coverage of regression testing. This reduces costly software fixes in production software, and painful help desk overload. VIP offers a broad range and flexible choices for your automation testing needs. We apply the best tools, proven methods, and experienced professionals for functional and automated testing needs, including custom and ERP/CRM applications. VIP can manage the entire testing process, or just discrete testing services.

Performance Testing & Monitoring

VIP delivers custom testing services to help customers ensure their applications and environment are performing optimally to support their business goals. With our dedicated and deeply experienced engineers, we deliver reliable, customized load and performance test planning, execution, and results, along with specific recommendations for improving your application performance and planning your performance monitoring. VIP also offers fixed-price, project-based load and performance testing through our Velocity SaaS program, which includes HPE LoadRunner software, hardware, and expert services bundled into one price.

Mobile Functional and Performance Testing

Mobile devices have changed the way companies do business. Whether extending the reach of legacy applications, engaging customers, or creating a more agile business, VIP can help. We have developed the Mobile-RightTM methodology to help our clients establish a strategy focused on the success of their mobile initiatives. Since mobile success is measured by user acceptance, VIP has industry leading offerings that will enable you to test the function and performance of your mobile solutions.
